

WE ARE THE WOMEN OF THE WORLD

Liona Boyd and Joanne Perica

© 2011 Mid-Continental Music SOCAN

We hear your voice
No matter how they try to silence you
It's loud and clear
We know what you are going through
You speak for all of us
And the unborn children who cannot know
The sacrifices you have made
So their hopes and dreams have a chance to grow

We are the women of the world
Every color every race
We are the women of the world
Every shape and size and face
We know our power so let's rejoice
Embrace our vision, share our voice
We stand for freedom and for choice
Yes we are the women of the world

The winds of change
They started blowing many years ago
They're growing strong
There's something in the air we know
It's up to all of us and together we can sing out loud and feel the love we've held inside
So take my hand, be strong be proud

We are the women of the world
Every color every race
We are the women of the world
Every shape and size and face
We know our power so let's rejoice
Embrace our vision, share our voice
We stand for freedom and for Choice
Yes we are the women of the world

They say our work is never done
But girlfriends we have just begun
To join our hearts and touch the sun
And realize we all are one

We are the women of the world
Every color every race
We are the women of the world
Every shape and size and face
We know our power so let's rejoice
Embrace our vision, share our voice
We stand for freedom and for Choice
Yes we are the women of the world